JEFFREY PETHYBRIDGE

Found Poem Including History {Poetry, before taking action, listens to the speechlessness of words}

SPECIAL REVIEW

"Poetry, before taking action, listens to the speechlessness of words.

Receiver of the sender who is 'no one.' (As the initial shading out of nothing, the sending of the longest amplitude—the deepest, the slowest—is always a lament.)"

PAGES 37 TO 43

Denied in Full

